One Year in Tasmania Adventure Film Competition

Information for Entrants

Thank you for registering an interest in the One Year In Tasmania Adventure Film Competition 2019, proudly presented by Cradle Mountain Canyons and the Cradle Mountain Hotel. You'll find all the relevant info you need to make your film here. Get in touch any time if you have any questions.

The Concept

We want to showcase how much adventure can be had on our lovely little island in one year. We're asking film makers to produce a maximum five minute film based on an adventure in Tasmania. Films can be fiction or non-fiction and focused on whatever 'adventure' means to you.

To Qualify films must:

- Be a maximum of five minutes long. We will be strict on this. There is no minimum.
- Be filmed/made in Tasmania, with at least 90% content from Tasmania.
- Have a focus on adventure. This could be extreme adventure, or simply going for a bushwalk with the kids. Whatever adventure means to you.
- Be filmed and made between 1 March 2018 and 1 March 2019.
- Not contain any copyrighted music or other material without appropriate permissions for use. The organisers of One Year In Tasmania may not have time to verify all films for violation of copyright. It is the responsibility of film makers to ensure their films do not breach copyright laws. Any films found to breach copyright laws will be disqualified.
- Not violate the NO DRONES in National Parks & Reserves policy, see: http://www.parks.tas.gov.au/index.aspx?base=41796
- To add to the impact of their film, we hope filmmakers can be present at the screening to be introduced to judges and audiences. We give all shortlisted entrants 2 free tickets to the screening.

Judging and Screening of Films

A shortlist of between 10 and 15 films (depending on length of films) will be announced on March 10 2019. Shortlisted films will be publicly screened and judged and the winner announced on Saturday March 30 2019 at the Cradle Mountain Hotel.

Prizes

First Place: $1000 plus a canyoning tour for two from Cradle Mountain Canyons valued at $490 (total prize $1490).

Additional Awards supplied by RACT Destinations (TO BE CONFIRMED by MARCH 2019)
Young Guns Award (Best film made by person under 21): night for two at Cradle Mountain Hotel including breakfast.
Second Prize: night for two at Freycinet Lodge including breakfast.
Third Prize: night for two at Strahan Village including breakfast.

People's Choice supplied by Tasmanian Parks and Wildlife Service: A pass for two to walk the Overland Track, with all necessary permits and information, valued at approximately $500.

Judging of People's Choice Award

All shortlisted films will be loaded onto the One Year In Tas youtube channel. The public will have the opportunity to vote for the People's Choice Award for one month by 'liking' videos. The film that gets the most 'likes' will win the award.

Costs

The festival is free to enter. The screening at Cradle Mountain Hotel will be ticketed. Shortlisted films will receive two complimentary tickets. If you want to attend the screening at Cradle Mountain, you will need to arrange your own transport and accommodation.

The Cradle Mountain Film Festival is a weekend of great film events and adventures on the fringe of the Wilderness World Heritage Area. Including the Tasmanian exclusive screening of Mountainfilm On Tour, kids films, wilderness yoga, cold water therapy, canyoning and a self-guided walking tour of the mountain huts to see a program of short films.
Check out www.cradlemountainfilmfest.com for the full program. Each event is ticketed separately.
